Breve descrizione

This Fellowship will investigate links, coherence and potential overlaps between two key international frameworks adopted in 2015, namely the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction and the UNFCCC Paris Agreement on Climate Change, assessed through the lens of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The project will chart the application of those frameworks in national/sub-national legislation and policy decisions; provide scientific outputs on informal law-making dynamics; develop research-based analysis and advocacy and guidance tools to promote Agenda 2030's objective of leaving no one behind. The centrepiece of the UN's Agenda 2030 are the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) adopted in 2015. Among the numerous references to climate-related disasters contained therein, SDG 1.5 stresses the need to "build the resilience of the poor and those in vulnerable situations and reduce their exposure and vulnerability to climate related extreme events and other [...] environmental shocks and disasters". As explicitly required by SDG 13.2, laws which address the root causes of disasters should be integrated "into national policies, strategies and planning". This highlights the need to strengthen institutional resilience and coordination, ensure clarity in responsibilities and prioritise activities. This research project will support legal and policy reforms for local and national authorities by providing evidence-based guidance and tools aimed at establishing comprehensive, cross-sectoral and inclusive measures. It will focus on the need to promote concrete advocacy actions and capacity-building activities aimed at supporting the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies' (IFRC) efforts in providing concrete guidance to national and local institutions in the adoption and implementation of innovative climate-smart DRM laws that protect the most vulnerable. This will stimulate integration and synergies between wider governance arrangements, e.g. the National Adaptation Plan (NAP) processes and the risk reduction strategy processes (Sendai Framework, Target E).
